

Photo by Scott Humbert courtesy of The Santa Fe Opera.

www.greatamericanvoices.org

A CELEBRATION OF SONG FOR THOSE WHO SERVE.

The National Endowment for the Arts Great American Voices tour brings professional opera and musical theater to military base communities across the nation. These performances offer military personnel and their families the chance to enjoy unforgettable melodies from opera and Broadway written by the world's foremost composers. Boeing and the NEA are proud to bring this program of great music to truly great Americans.

This ad celebrates Boeing's sponsorship of the National Endowment for the Arts "Great American Voices Military Base Tour." Through this program, the NEA will bring free performances of opera and musical theater classics to 40 military bases around the United States. The ad is based on the poster art for the tour. Performances will run through 2006.