

NOTHING BRINGS US TOGETHER LIKE A GREAT IDEA.

Alenia Spazio and Boeing are working together on the next phase of the International Space Station. We are building modules that will enable crew to live and carry out research in microgravity conditions. Sometimes, the spirit of collaboration can even overrule the laws of nature.

This is the latest in the Boeing advertising series directed at members of the European Commission and Parliament. This ad highlights Boeing's partnership with Alenia Spazio of Italy in working together on the next phase of the International Space Station. The campaign is designed to establish a collaborative presence for Boeing in Europe.
